Announcements:

Sue Meissner is starting the Bloomington Lace Guild as a chapter of IOLI, International Organization of Lace Inc. Lace is broadly defined as bobbin lace, needle lace, tatting, and knitted lace. This group will emphasize learning at meetings and workshops as well as community outreach, particularly to the younger generation in a balance of tradition and creativity. Please contact Sue Meissner if you wish to join. Dues are $10 per year for local membership (under age 16 free), although we encourage, but do not require, members to join IOLI and enjoy those benefits as we start this new chapter. See the IOLI website for details, "www.internationalorganizationoflace.org".
